

INSTITUTE FOR RESEARCH AND EDUCATION IN TSI®

Bridging the gap between trauma-informed care and spiritual integration through research, training, and clinical innovation.

PURPOSE

The purpose of Trauma-Informed Spiritual Intervention® is to promote holistic health across service industries by providing a structured framework for establishing safety when navigating doctrine, religious differences, and trauma sustained in spiritually unsafe environments.

WHY THIS MATTERS

Currently, few structured frameworks fully account for both the cultural relevance of spirituality or the prevalence and continued potential for religious harm within integrative care. TSI fills this gap by helping service providers establish and maintain safety when a client brings up a spiritual or religious dimension to treatment, fostering conceptual clarity and increasing sensitivity to doctrine and power dynamics.

Through its approach, TSI centers choice, mutuality, and collaboration in addressing harmful or maladaptive beliefs formed in spiritually unsafe environments, allowing individuals to reclaim and access the full resilience-building potential of faith.
